SOME TECHNICAL INFORMATION:

The active ingredient Bromadiolone is from 6 to 10 times more powerful than the bait based on the older generation anticoagulants. The death is delayed for some days, thus the other rodents of the population are unable to associate its death with the bait eaten (and come as well to feed in the same bait point).

For safety reasons, especially towards children, the bait contains Denatonium Benzoate, which is the most bitter substance in the world: added inside the rodenticide baits up to 10 ppm (0.001%), it could be noticed by the human palate as a unecatable substance. However, at the same dose rodents don't notice any effect and they feed it greedily.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

The last european directive (98/8/CE), just in force, has focused on the safe use of rodenticides?

To ensure our protection (people, animals and environment), these regulations laid down obligations to use tamper resistant and secured bait boxes.
